

PANELS WILL RECOMMEND ACTIONABLE ROADMAPS

Shah, Rajnath to head panels for economy, social reforms

ANIL SASI
New Delhi, August 20

TWO NEW INFORMAL groups of ministers (iGoMs) have been formed by the Centre under home minister Amit Shah and defence minister Rajnath Singh to prescribe reforms in the economic and social sectors, respectively. Shah's panel comprises 13 members, including finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman and commerce and industry minister Piyush Goyal, with minister of railways, I&B and electronics & IT Ashwini Vaishnaw as the convener.

This group will focus on laying out the legislative and policy reform agenda in the technology and economic sectors, including finance, industry, commerce infrastructure, logistics, resources, science and technology, and governance.

The second 18-member grouping on social, welfare and security sectors is headed by defence minister Rajnath Singh. This will examine the scope for reforms in sectors including education, healthcare, defence, skilling, social welfare, housing, labour, etc. Others in this panel include road transport and highways minister Nitin Gadkari, agriculture minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan, with labour and sports minister Mansukh Mandaviya designated as its convener.

The groups have been set up following Prime Minister Narendra Modi's Independence Day address where he pressed home the need for next generation reforms and announced the setting up of a task force.

“Current rules, laws, policies, and procedures must be re-drafted to suit the 21st century and to align with the vision of making Bharat a developed nation by 2047,” Modi had said.

Both groups have been asked to submit monthly reports on the progress made, followed by a consolidated reforms roadmap at the end of three months. Secretarial support for this would be provided by the finance ministry's department of economic affairs. The chairs of the two GoMs are vested with the mandate to invite ministers, secretaries and subject matter experts, as and when required.

A government source said these two panels are expected to go beyond just advisory roles and prescribe actionable roadmaps, with measurable outcomes to track these actions. Some of these metrics, sources said, include a calibrated and quantifiable reduction of compliance burden on citizens and businesses; driving employment generation and productivity enhancement, dismantling legacy bottlenecks and identifying reforms at the Central, state and municipal corporation levels.

The panels have also been tasked with suggesting legislative reforms that include repeal or changes to existing laws and readying the draft enabling legislations for futuristic sectors including digital health, fintech, the gig economy etc; identifying policy reforms; highlighting process-focused reform and institutional reforms that span the central, state and local levels.

Give financial support to oil firms for storage: House panel

ARUNIMA BHARADWAJ
New Delhi, August 20

THE STANDING COMMITTEE on petroleum and natural gas has urged the oil ministry to provide funds to state-run oil companies for creation of storage caverns near their refineries and also to look at various options to increase the strategic storage capacity in line with the rising domestic demand. Currently, the country has 5.33 MT of crude oil storage capacity at three different locations — Vishakhapatnam (1.33 MT), Mangalore (1.5 MT) and Padur (2.5 MT) — built under phase I of strategic petroleum reserve (SPR) program.

“The committee are of the view that the existing refinery projects and the recently commissioned refineries may be asked to set up strategic storage capacity with a smaller capacity like 2 to 3 days at 5 to 6 locations which can bring up 15 to 20 days additional capacity in a definite time frame,” it said. Presently, the SPR and the commercial oil stocks held by refiners cumulatively account for 72-74 days of crude inventory, as per analysts, lower than the International Energy Agency recommended 90 days inventory. While standalone strategic storage caverns at different locations also helps, capacities near the existing refinery may encourage the oil PSUs to establish and maintain them. For the same purpose, it said that the petroleum ministry may provide funds for creation of storage caverns to oil PSUs through Indian Strategic Petroleum Reserves (ISPR), while the oil PSUs can store and maintain the caverns for their usage. The committee noted that the strategic storage will be a dynamic concept as the total demand of petroleum products like diesel, petrol and ATF, etc. keeps on changing more on the higher side as the economy grows. “Therefore, the strategic storage capacity needs to be worked out with a future target in mind,” it said.

Consumption of petroleum products rose to 239.2 million tonnes in FY25 against 234.3 million tonnes in FY24, as per official data.

IOCL, BPCL resume buying Russian oil

STATE-RUN REFINERS Indian Oil and Bharat Petroleum have bought Russian oil for September and October delivery, resuming purchases after discounts widened, two company officials said. The resumption in Russian oil imports by the refiners could reduce supplies for top buyer China which had stepped up purchases during their absence.

The refiners halted purchases in July due to narrower discounts and after India was criticised by US for its purchases of Russian oil. President Trump also threatened an additional 25% levy on Indian goods, effective August 27, to penalise New Delhi for its continued buying of the oil.

Trump's tariffs create 'urgency to transform India': Uday Kotak

GEORGE MATHEW
Mumbai, August 20

KOTAK MAHINDRA GROUP founder Uday Kotak on Wednesday said the uncertainty of Donald Trump's tariff regime had created “a sense of urgency for transforming India” and offered “a great opportunity to pivot”.

In an interview with the Financial Times, Kotak said policymakers and businesses should use the trade war to “get focused on productivity, efficiency, excellence and building world-class brands.” “Manufacturing has to play a very important role”, he said, advocating that producers should not focus on India's large domestic market to avoid the need for “cutting-edge precision”.

“We must think about this as an opportunity for us to get out of our cruise mindset and

UDAY KOTAK, FOUNDER, KOTAK MAHINDRA GROUP
Policymakers and businesses should use trade war to get focused on productivity, efficiency, excellence and building world-class brands from a comfort mindset to ‘we are at risk,’” he said.

He called for “direct fiscal support” from the government to “turbocharge” small businesses in manufacturing, research and technology. The government should channel more budgetary support to small and medium-sized businesses as the economy grapples with Donald Trump's punishing tariffs, Kotak told the FT.

India's economy has come under renewed strain after Trump's recent move to impose an additional 25% tariff on Indian exports to the US, on top of the earlier 25% “reciprocal” levy. The additional tariffs are linked to India's continued purchase of discounted Russian oil — a practice Trump claims indirectly supports Russia's war effort in Ukraine.

Analysts have warned that the dual tariff regime could shave off 0.5 to 0.7 percentage points from India's GDP growth, making it critical for India to respond with robust internal reforms. These tariffs have woken Indians up to the risks of global dependency and the urgent need to strengthen our domestic ecosystem.

Earlier, chairman of RPG Enterprises Harsh Goenka had vowed to raise resolve in response to increased Trump tariffs. “You can tariff our exports, but not our sovereignty. Raise your tariffs — we'll raise our resolve, find better alternatives, and build self-reliance. India bows to none,” Goenka said in an X post.

Anand Mahindra, chairperson of the Mahindra Group, had urged India to respond to Trump's announcement of a steep 50% tariff with reform rather than retaliation.

“Let the unintended consequences we create be the most intentional and transformative ones of all,” said Mahindra in a post on X.

US tariff hike to hit MSMEs in textiles, diamonds: Crisil

INDIA'S MICRO, SMALL and medium enterprises (MSMEs) in textiles, gems and jewellery, chemicals, and seafood are bracing for a severe setback as the US doubles its ad valorem duty on Indian imports to 50%, effective August 27. These sectors — together accounting for nearly a quarter of India's exports to the US — have significant MSME participation, with over 70% in textiles and gems, and 40% in chemicals.

“Partial absorption of the increased product prices due to higher tariffs will put pressure on MSMEs, squeeze their already-slim margins and pose a potential challenge to their competitiveness,” Pushan Sharma, director at Crisil Intelligence, said in a report.

The impact will be most acute in hubs like Tirupur and Surat. Tirupur's readymade garment (RMG) exporters, who alone contribute over 30% of India's RMG exports, will now face a steep 61% effective duty — double that levied on competitors in Bangladesh and Vietnam (31%). Surat's diamond polishers, responsible for 80% of India's diamond exports, will also be hit hard, with the US accounting for nearly a third of their overseas sales.

CASE PENDENCY

We have built temples of justice with doors too narrow, says CJI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
NEW DELHI, AUGUST 20

UNDERLINING THAT both the Bar and the Bench have a role to play in the increasing case pendency, Chief Justice of India B R Gavai Wednesday said that while there are High Court judges who are “truly headstrong... there are others whose performance is deeply disappointing”.

Inaugurating the Supreme Court Bar Association (SCBA) lecture series, the CJI spoke on the subject, ‘Justice for all — legal aid and mediation: The collaborative role of Bar and the Bench’.

CJI Gavai said “in the world’s largest democracy, access to justice has been till recently a privilege of prosperity. When legal fees eclipse monthly incomes, when procedures demand literacy that millions lack, when courthouse corridors intimidate more than they welcome — we face a stark reality. We have built temples of justice with doors too narrow for the very people they were meant to serve. The scales of justice cannot balance when only one side can afford to place their grievances upon them.”

He said “while case pendency and legal aid operate in different spheres of our justice system, they converge at a critical point — the citizen’s quest for timely justice... even the most robust legal aid framework loses its meaning when justice arrives too late...”

On what drives this accumulation of cases, the CJI said, “the answer lies in multiple inter-connected factors requiring candid introspection from all stakeholders. Both Bar and Bench, despite finest intentions, have developed practices that collectively contribute to extended timelines. Adjournment requests, while often necessary, have become frequent features of proceedings.”

SC dismisses Bengal’s review plea in SSC recruitment case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
NEW DELHI, AUGUST 20

THE SUPREME Court has dismissed the Mamata Banerjee-led government’s petition seeking a review of its April 3, 2025, judgment that upheld the Calcutta High Court order invalidating the appointment of 25,753 teachers and non-teaching staff by the West Bengal School Service Commission (SSC) in 2016 in state-run and state-aided schools.

A bench of Justices Sanjay Kumar and S C Sharma said the April 3 decision “was passed after hearing extensive and exhaustive arguments and upon considering all aspects, factual and legal.”

The August 5, 2025, order dismissing the review petition said, “The settled legal position obtaining on the strength of case law was duly considered in the context of the illegalities in the selection process brought out by the reports of the Justice (Retd) Bag Committee and the Central Bureau of Investigation along with the admissions made by the West Bengal Central School Service Commission and the West Bengal Board of Secondary Education in their counter affidavits.”

West Bengal Chief Minister

The top court said, “The failure on the part of the West Bengal Central School Service Commission to retain the original physical OMR sheets or at least the mirror copies thereof was a significant factor which weighed with the High Court and with this Court. Further, it was noted that the cover-up of lapses and illegalities by the authorities made verification and ascertainment more difficult, leading to the inevitable conviction that the entire selection process was compromised owing to such illegalities.”

The bench pointed out that “the entire selection, therefore, had to be invalidated to maintain the sanctity of the process of selection, which should be pristine and free of all such infirmities.”

It, however, added, “...the interests of the appointed candidates who were untainted were sought to be protected to the greatest extent possible, as is evident from the concluding paragraphs of the judgment.”

“No doubt, invalidation of such untainted appointments would lead to heartburn and anguish, which the Court was fully conscious of, but protecting the purity of the selection process is paramount and necessarily has to be given the highest priority,” the court said. The SC also upheld the adverse remarks against the state authorities in the judgment. “...the adverse remarks made against the authorities concerned, who were wholly and solely responsible for this entire imbroglio, adversely affecting the lives of thousands of candidates, untainted and tainted, were fully warranted and justified.”

The court said that “review petitions which, in effect, seek a re-hearing of the matter on merits, therefore, do not deserve to be entertained as all relevant aspects have already been examined and considered comprehensively.”

‘Wholly illegal’: MP HC raps EC surveillance team over gold seizure ahead of 2023 polls

ANAND MOHAN J
BHOPAL, AUGUST 20

OBSERVING THAT the actions of the surveillance teams set up by the Election Commission of India and the Income Tax Department were “wholly illegal” that seized jewellery worth ₹6 crore ahead of the 2023 state assembly elections, the MP High Court imposed a cost of ₹50,000 as they caused a loss to the jewellers.

A Division Bench of Justices Vivek Rasia and Binod Kumar Dwivedi Monday directed that the jewellery seized during an operation be released. It observed that the “Static Surveillance Team (SST) of the EC, the District Election Officer, and the Director General of Income Tax have not conducted the proceedings in accordance with SOP / Circulars” issued by the EC and caused losses to the owners and consignor.

The court awarded ₹50,000 in favour of all the writ petitioners, payable by the respondents.

On October 23, 2023, a car operated by Sequel Logistics Pvt Ltd was intercepted by the SST in Ratlam district and allegedly seized 37 consignments of jewellery valued at over ₹6 crore.

This came while the Model Code of Conduct was imposed ahead of Madhya Pradesh assembly polls. Following this, the Income Tax department issued notice to Amit Sharma, a custodian officer of Sequel Logistics who was accused of being the owner of the consignment.

Sharma has denied the allegations, and approached the HC challenging the legality of seizure. The authorities have responded to the allegations by stating that the seizure “was carried out strictly in discharge of statutory duties...”

The court observed that the SST and District Grievance

Committee “did not consider... that the Vehicle was not carrying any unaccounted cash, election posters, election materials, drugs, arms, etc”. The court also observed “contradiction in the number of consignments and the value of the jewellery in the documents of the SST and Income Tax Department”.

The court said the “SST or District Grievance Committee was only required to inform the Income Tax Department about the release of these articles... Therefore, handing over of these articles to the Income Tax Department is, per se, illegal,” the court ruled.

Nepal stand on trade through Lipulekh not justified: MEA

New Delhi: A day after India and China agreed to the re-opening of border trade through the three designated points, Nepal has objected to the border trade through Lipulekh Pass. Nepal has disputed the Indian claim over Lipulekh in the past. Nepal PM KP Sharma Oli had in 2020 opposed it, passing a map in Parliament, showing the area as part of Nepal.

In response to Nepal’s stand, MEA spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal said, “Border trade between India and China through Lipulekh pass commenced in 1954 and has been going on for decades... such claims are neither justified nor based on... evidence.” He said that India remains open to constructive interaction on resolving the boundary issues. ENS

BMC to improve carrying capacity of pumps at Hindmata Jn

Plans to widen the existing drainage system to mitigate flooding woes

PRATIPACHARYA
MUMBAI, AUGUST 20

A DAY after several parts of Mumbai got inundated owing to the incessant rainfall, the Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC) administration Wednesday said that they are now targeting interventions at local level to mitigate flooding woes in Mumbai at the municipal ward level.

Between August 16 and August 19, Mumbai recorded 940 mm of rainfall. Consequently, several areas, including the Hindmata junction where the BMC had carried out a flood mitigation drive four years ago by spending Rs 150 crore also got inundated leading to stoppage of vehicle flow.

Speaking to The Indian Express, Abhijit Bangar, Additional Municipal Commissioner (Projects) said that now the administration is mooted a proposal to increase the capacity of these pumps.

He said that over the past six days, all the six pumping stations in Mumbai, along with the additional 540 dewatering pumps that were installed, had been functional continuously, yet several locations in the city got inundated during the rains.

"Today, these pumping stations are equipped to counter a capacity of 55-60 mm of hourly rainfall. However, over the last six days, we have recorded instances where hourly rainfall was recorded between 150 mm and 200 mm. At Hindmata, there is a holding pond where the accumulated rain water is stored during the time of flooding. The water is transferred to the pond by dewatering pumps," Bangar told the Indian Express.

"Now our target is to increase the carrying capacity of these pumps so that the quantum of

BMC staff clean the drains after heavy rain lashed Mumbai over past couple of days. Akash Patil water that gets transferred into the tank in a given time is much more than its current capacity. Once we implement this the speed of discharge will be much more resulting in quicker drainage of accumulated water," he added.

The pumping station at Hindmata became operational in 2022. There are seven pumps installed at the space with a current capacity of being able to channel 3,000 cubic meters of water every hour.

"Three years ago when this pumping station became operational the cases of adverse climate conditions were not regular. But at present, Mumbai is witnessing above normal rainfall very frequently and the city's vulnerability has increased. Therefore we need to expand our infrastructure to be future ready," he added.

Besides this, the BMC has also mooted an idea to widen the existing drainage network at Gandhi Market along with several other locations in Mumbai.

Civic officials said that out of the total flooding spots in Mumbai a larger number of flooding spots remain in the island city.

Therefore the need for widening the drains in island city is of utmost importance to the civic authorities. The BMC will appoint a dedicated agency like the IIT or VJTI for carrying out a survey of these drains and to determine the margin by which each of the drains will be widened.

Officials said that instead of carrying out large-scale widening works, the civic body is also looking towards implementing local level intervention to improve the smooth flow of water.

"Since the population and demography of the city have changed drastically in the past decades the quantum of water-flow has also increased. Meanwhile, the pattern of rainfall has also recorded a massive change in the past few years due to which we are witnessing frequent incidents where a large quantity of rainfall is happening within a short period of time. Therefore, there is a need now to widen the existing width of the drains," Bangar added.

Mumbai has a vast network of drains nullahs, with 261.52 km of major nullahs (over 1.5 meters wide) and 411.56 km of minor nullahs (less than 1.5 meters wide), along with other types of drains like arch and roadside drains, the overall network of drains in Mumbai stand at around 3,800 km.

These nullahs play a key role in the drainage system of the city. The origin of these drains date back to the colonial era in the middle of the 20th century.

One dead in Thane, bridge closed in Kalyan

Thane, Palghar: Intense rain affected normal life in Thane district on Wednesday, officials said. A man died after falling into a water-filled quarry, while a inundated bridge in Kalyan area was closed amid the downpour.

The Thane Municipal Corporation (TMC) recorded 186.91 mm rainfall in 24 hours ending 8.30 am Wednesday.

A man, identified as Aditya Singh, died after falling into a water-filled quarry around midnight at Rabale in Navi Mumbai township of Thane, an official from the disaster control room said.

"Due to the rise in the water level of the Bhatsa river, the bridge leading to Ju village (Thane district) has been completely submerged, cutting off the village from the outside world," a district official said.

The neighbouring Palghar district also witnessed heavy overnight showers, flooding low-lying areas and disrupting movement at several locations, they said. PTI

3 long-distance trains rescheduled from CSMT, suburban train services delayed

NARESHS
MUMBAI, AUGUST 20

HEAVY RAINS and overnight downpour continued to impact suburban train services in Mumbai and long-distance trains, on Wednesday.

The Western Railway cancelled 17 early morning services due to waterlogging and multiple suburban trains across the Churchgate-Dahanu Road section were operating with an average delay of 20 to 25 minutes. While Central Railway services were restored on Tuesday night, several long-distance trains faced delays on account of rain and waterlogging.

Later in the day western railway cancelled a total of 29 suburban trains due to waterlogging and safety concerns.

Western Railway later announced that multiple MEMU (Mainline Electric Multiple Unit) services were cancelled due to waterlogging near Vasai road yard. This included train no. 69167 Panvel-Vasai road MEMU, train no. 69166 Vasai road-Panvel MEMU, train no. 61008 Diva-Vasai road MEMU, train no. 61021 Vasai Road-Diva MEMU, train no. 61008 Diva-Vasai road MEMU, and train no. 61009 Vasai Road-Diva MEMU. However, by evening, Western Railway confirmed that all services were running normally with almost no delay.

Western Railway has announced that Train No 10115 Bandra Terminus-Madgaon Express, will short-originate from Kaman Road and remain cancelled between Bandra Terminus and Kaman Road. Waterlogging was reported at Vasai Road station, leading to cautious movement of trains on the Up Fast line, where services were operated at restricted speed.

"In the morning we cancelled around 17 trains due to waterlog-

Passengers walk along the tracks after a train stopped near Vashi station due to a technical failure in Mumbai on Wednesday. Amit Chakravarty ging issues. Since there is less demand in the morning, services were curtailed temporarily, but all trains are back in place now and running smoothly. As there is still some waterlogging, we have reduced the speed of the trains, so there is an average delay of 15 to 20 minutes," said Vineet Abhishek, Chief Public Relations Officer, Western Railway.

Central Railway services on both the main line, harbour line, and trans harbour line were running slightly behind schedule through the day. Officials said a technical failure at Vashi station around noon had led to local trains being stranded near Mankhurd and Nerul for over 20 minutes and when it reached Nerul, it reached 50 mins later resulting in both wait time and delay. Services were restored after repairs.

Central Railway services on both the Main and Harbour lines were restored Wednesday after being declared fit for operations. The Down Harbour line was cleared at 2 am and the Up line at 3 am, with services now plying on all sections, officials said.

"The Harbour line and Main line services are running smoothly after the early morning restoration. Suburban operations are normal across all sections," said a Central Railway spokesperson.

Long-distance trains, however, remained affected. Three trains originating from Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj Terminus were rescheduled on Wednesday owing to operational disruptions caused by heavy rains and waterlogging. The CSMT-Chennai Central service, scheduled to depart at 12.45 pm, was rescheduled to 4.40 pm. The Antodaya Express to Gorakhpur, scheduled at 1.30 pm, was rescheduled to 5.15 pm. The CSMT-Howrah Duronto Express, scheduled for 5.15 pm, will now depart at 12.15 am on August 21.

On Tuesday, Central Railway operations had been severely hit, with all Main Line services between CSMT and Thane being suspended due to flooding at Sion and Chunabhatti. Indian Rock Python rescued from residential society in Mulund area Mumbai: A 10-foot-long Indian Rock Python strayed into residential premises in Mumbai's Mulund area, causing panic among people, a wildlife welfare organisation said. The snake was rescued on Tuesday and later released into the wild, it said.

The Resqink Association for Wildlife Welfare (RAWW) received a call on Tuesday afternoon about the reptile venturing into the housing society premises.

The python climbed up a tree in the society where a crowd gathered to catch a glimpse of the snake. RAWW president Pawan Sharma said. The reptile was displaced due to rain and exhausted while trying to find an exit route to enter its habitat, as the periphery of forests of the Sanjay Gandhi National Park was less than a kilometre from the site, he said. PTI
